

Overhaul

Overhaul is a performance packed combination of Vapco's System Protect and System Enhance Xpress Inject products. This combo is the first ever one step application to boost a system's performance while eliminating acid and removing moisture. Overhaul is the ideal solution to combat moisture and acid formation while increasing the efficiency and life of any system.

Overhaul was designed to specifically attack acid and moisture, one of the biggest threats to a healthy system. It does this by converting acids and moisture into a synthetic lubricant. When combined with its performance enhancing formula, this Xpress Inject is able to give systems an "overhaul" like never before. This also includes removing insulated buildup and non-compressibles found in the system, reducing friction and strain on moving parts.

Overhaul is the perfect solution for removing moisture, attacking and neutralizing acids, returning oil to the compressor, quieting compressor noise, saving energy and increasing a systems life while saving end users money at the same time. This unique product combo is the best solution for year round protection and increased performance.
